During the United States federal government shutdown of 2013 (October 1st until 16th), FORMER Pres. Obama shutdown airports, National Parks, and even static displays. To avoid the spectacle and the political games of chaining up national monuments from public citizens during a government shutdown, all National Parks, National Monuments, National Forests, and all national lands (but not Federal Offices) should be turned over to the jurisdiction of the states or districts in which they are located. No new federal lands should be obtained. The National Parks and Monuments are our national treasures and they were NEVER meant to be political hostages. To prevent another ridiculous shutdown of the airports for political reasons, all Federal employees (including the Air Traffic Controllers) should be removed and replaced with private companies, guards, and inspectors.
